FORMER CROWN PRINCE OF GERMANY NOW HOME

On His Return from Holland to His Castle Has Persistently Eluded Officials and Newspaper Men; Reported Visiting Hindenburg Several Hours

At Konigsweisterhausen Prince's Party Stopped for Gasoline and the Mayor Rushed to the Garage with a Sonorous Welcoming Address

Berlin, Nov. 12.—Former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm was expected to arrive at his castle at Oels, Silesia, "some time today," servants told the United Press. They were not allowed to divulge the exact time he was expected.

Like a ghost of old Germany, suddenly appearing here and there and vanishing as rapidly, the former crown prince on his return from Holland to his castle eluded officials and newspaper men.

The crown prince spent last night at an estate 20 miles from Konigsweisterhausen and resumed his journey early today, according to dispatches to the United Press.

A Central News dispatch from London said the crown prince arrived at Oels, but this was not confirmed.

It was reported the crown prince visited Field Marshal Von Hindenburg for two hours in Hanover, but this was unconfirmed.

He came and went so swiftly in the small towns that there was hardly time for ovations.

At Konigsweisterhausen his party had to stop for gasoline and here the crowds got their chance. The mayor rushed to the garage as the townspeople gathered and hastily rolled out a sonorous welcome, recalling the crown prince's earlier visits to the town before the war.

The prince was evidently embarrassed by the reception and rushed away as soon as his gas tank was full.

A report was circulated but not confirmed that the crown prince's adjutant, Major Von Muerler, had visited his home at Kaisdam.

The prince spent Saturday night in Hildesheim, the German foreign office revealed. The Hildesheim police headquarters told the United Press they did not know the crown prince was there, suggesting he had remained incognito since many friends at Hildesheim would gladly shelter him.

HITLER REPORTED ARRESTED IN STARNBERG

Berlin, Nov. 12.—Adolph Hitler, leader of the monarchist fascio in Munich, was reported arrested in Starnberg, in dispatches from Munich today.

Hitler has been brought to the Bavarian capitol, it was reported. General Erich Von Ludendorff, Hitler's chief aid, was reported in dispatches from Munich to be under "house arrest" at his villa in Ludwigstoe near the city.

He was in good health. It was reported he would probably attend the funerals Tuesday of all the victims of the putsch including that of his servant who was killed defending him.

Dictator Von Kahr issued a proclamation in Munich today declaring that Ludendorff's honor is "unstained."

The proclamation said the old general had only been the victim of "seduction."

The new order placing him under "house arrest" was said to be merely a technical one.

Hitler has been getting his forces in preparation for a new blow, it was reported.

He counted on the sympathy of many people in Munich where crowds jeered the police Reichswehr for putting down his raising.

Hitler had succeeded in rallying some forces at Rosendain and later at Kuffstein, the United Press was informed by telephone from Munich.

Well informed persons there shouted that a new putsch could succeed if attempted.

ALLIED NATIONS TO ACT IN MATTER

Paris, Nov. 12.—The conference of ambassadors representing the principal allied governments met at 4 P. M. today to consider action on the returned crown prince of Germany.

Dispatch to Issue Big Christmas Number

WOODROW WILSON MAKES 2 SPEECHES, NEARLY OVERCOME

EX-PRESIDENT COMPLETELY REVEALED HIS HEART TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

FRIENDS CONCERNED FEAR HE MAY HAVE RELAPSE BECAUSE OF THE STRAIN

Washington, Nov. 12.—Former President Woodrow Wilson today was recovering from the greatest spell of emotion that he has experienced since he left the White House nearly three years ago, a pitiful physical wreck.

Two speeches within 24 hours moved Mr. Wilson so deeply that as he concluded his remarks before 10,000 of his admirers late yesterday, he could hardly keep down the tears that welled to his eyes.

Woodrow Wilson completely revealed his heart to the American people during the armistice day celebrations over the week end. It was admitted by those close to the former president today that Mr. Wilson was moved to the depths of his emotion by the occasion.

The ex-president admitted his emotion before the thousands of his admirers at his home yesterday and asked their pardon for it. After apparently finishing his remarks, he turned again to the crowd, raised his hand to quiet the music and concluded in his old fighting spirit:

"Just one more word. I cannot refrain from saying it. I am not one of those that has the least anxiety about the triumph of the principals. I have stood for. I have seen fools resist providence before and I have seen their destruction as will come upon these again—utter destruction and contempt. That we shall prevail is as sure as that God reigns."

Friends of Mr. Wilson today showed some concern as to whether the former president may have a relapse following the strain of his address to the American people by radio Saturday night on the meaning of Armistice day and his appearance and brief remarks to his admirers on S. street yesterday.

Admiral C. T. Grayson, the ex-president's personal physician took action to quiet the fears by announcing Mr. Wilson's condition is as good as it has been recently and that so far he has shown no ill effects of the week end.

Grayson added, however, that Mr. Wilson's emotions had been very great.

Supporters of the League of Nations foresaw today in Mr. Wilson's Armistice day activities his definite entrance into the coming presidential campaign to fight for the League of Nations. There was much speculation on the effect of Mr. Wilson's address on the presidential aspirations of William G. MacAdoo who is now here.

FOUR MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPE FROM DEATH

St. Cloud, Minn., Nov. 12.—Four persons miraculously escaped death at noon Sunday when Northern Pacific train No. 4 west bound plowed into an automobile at a crossing here.

John Marusky, 14, was driving the car, purchased three days ago. He knew the brakes were out of order, and despite the frantic flagging of the watchman, drove the car on the crossing. Two yards from the main track he applied the brakes, which failed to hold. As the train came near, the boy jumped, leaving his father, Thomas Marusky, Royaltown, and a brother William, 17, in the car. Oswald Zimmerman, ten, of Little Falls, also leaped from the car. His father and William were hurled from the machine and brought here seriously injured. A moment later the car was ground to pieces underneath the train. The two small boys who leaped were uninjured, both escaping by a hair's breadth.

TREMENDOUS CORN CROP PRODUCED IN STATE OF MINNESOTA

St. Paul, Nov. 12.—Minnesota produced more corn this year than ever before.

The flax crop is the largest since 1905 and the potato harvest is 6,000,000 bushels above the five year average.

The added corn crop for Minnesota is accounted for by the increased acreage, Paul H. Kirk, federal statistician for the Minnesota crop reporting service, said today.

The total production is estimated at 156,132,000 bushels of which 79 per cent is of merchantable quality.

The flax seed yield is estimated at 5,440,000 bushels. The quality is placed at 89 per cent of normal.

Potatoes averaged 96 bushels to the acre with a total production of 38,304,000 bushels. This is less than last year, but above the five year average. The quality was 82 per cent of normal.

Apple production for the year was placed at 95 per cent of normal which means about 1,520,000 bushels. This is one of the largest apple crops for Minnesota since the season was favorable.

Nearly 100,000 attended numerous community meetings and demonstrations throughout the city. The accident occurred while McBride was stunt flying. He had made a number of dives to within a short distance of the earth, engineered a few "rolls" and other hazardous stunts. Just as he made a sharp dive and roll, his motor went dead, within 200 feet of the earth. Despite the efforts of McBride, which were plainly visible to the crowd below, the ship went to the ground. McBride died instantly.

Th lights on the car went out and unable to discern a turn in the road, the machine hurtled over the embankment and landed upside down. HE WILL DEVOTE HIS TIME TO INVENTION OF MEANS TO HASTEN WORLD PEACE

St. Paul, Nov. 12.—Love and understanding will end war.

Magnus Johnson, U. S. senator from Minnesota told an Armistice day crowd of 3,000 here that the thinking people of this country should turn their attention to raising a higher plane of altruism that strife and bloodshed "shall be no more."

The League of Nations, the World Court plan and all other political ideas for the prevention of war will fail, he said, without international aid, production of human understanding, sympathy and love.

Senator Johnson said he will turn his attention to the "invention" of some practical means of hastening world peace when he goes to Washington next month.

If the nations will talk things over before going to war he is sure there will be no more war, he said.

"I shall be guided by what I find out," he added, "and to you of the American Legion I pledge that I shall never stop fighting for the man who fought for me."

It was expected to be reached tomorrow.

Isadore Gainsberg, counsel for Stokes, asked Supreme Court Judge Wasservogel to postpone hearing of the case two weeks until he could familiarize himself with it.

The court, however, took the view of Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Mrs. Stokes, that Gainsberg was familiar enough with the case as he had handled Stokes' defense a year ago against Mrs. Stokes' suit for dowry rights.

Mrs. Stokes and her mother, Mrs. Emma Miller, were in court today.

Mrs. Stokes had blossomed out since winning her defense against her husband's suit for divorce and was wearing a handsome brown tailored suit.

AMERICA HAS NOT FORGOTTEN

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATIONS HELD THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES

America has not forgotten.

And they celebrated the ending of the world war when hundreds of thousands of boys in khaki, nurses, Salvation army workers and others who participated in overthrowing German military might joined in parades in all parts of the United States. Millions of citizens cheered them.

At 11 a. m. in every community in the country all was hushed for two minutes and the people stood at attention in honor of those who never came home from "somewhere in France."

Dispatches to the United Press today told of armistice celebrations today ranging from imposing parades with large bands and artillery salutes of the big cities to a simple little church services with a sermon on peace in the hamlets and villages.

In Washington President Calvin Coolidge placed a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier, gold star mothers and other mourners filed past the sepulchre all day. A mile or so away 5,000 people jammed the street in front of Woodrow Wilson's home and heard him—choking with emotion which at times almost overcame him—call the American army of 1918 "the most ideal army that was ever thrown together."

He defied those who opposed the American entrance in the League of Nations and said "that we shall prevail is as sure as that God reigns."

In London King George placed a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier in Westminster Abbey while thousands filed past in Whitehall.

In Paris General Pershing stood at attention while his aide put a wreath on the unknown soldier's tomb beneath the Arc De Triomphe while a vast crowd of Frenchmen looked on. And in Germany the former crown prince returning from exile, conferred with Von Hindenburg and sped from town to town in his automobile en route to his castle at Silesia.

The statement was made before St. Paul Men Teachers' federation at the Ryman hotel. Senator Johnson also declared that Minnesota is now law ridden and that the state would be better off for throwing 50 per cent of the laws of the state into the river.

Although Rev. Howard Y. Williams, pastor of the People's church, St. Paul, had a moment before lauded the election of both Henrik Shipstead and Mr. Johnson as United States senators, Senator Johnson said he disagreed with Mr. Williams in advocating the entrance of the United States into either the world court or League of Nations.

Mrs. Helen Stokes Wins Another Court Skirmish

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Helen Elwodo Stokes today won her plea to have her suit for separation from her wealthy husband heard as soon as it can be reached on the court calendar.

It was expected to be reached tomorrow.

Isadore Gainsberg, counsel for Stokes asked Supreme Court Judge Wasservogel to postpone hearing of the case two weeks until he could familiarize himself with it.

The court, however, took the view of Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Mrs. Stokes that Gainsberg was familiar enough with the case as he had handled Stokes' defense a year ago against Mrs. Stokes' suit for dowry rights.

Mrs. Stokes and her mother, Mrs. Emma Miller, were in court today.

Mrs. Stokes had blossomed out since winning her defense against her husband's suit for divorce and was wearing a handsome brown tailored suit.

AMERICA HAS NOT FORGOTTEN

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATIONS HELD THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES

(By United Press)

America has not forgotten.

And they celebrated the ending of the world war when hundreds of thousands of boys in khaki, nurses, Salvation army workers and others who participated in overthrowing German military might joined in parades in all parts of the United States. Millions of citizens cheered them.

At 11 a. m. in every community in the country all was hushed for two minutes and the people stood at attention in honor of those who never came home from "somewhere in France."

Dispatches to the United Press today told of armistice celebrations today ranging from imposing parades with large bands and artillery salutes of the big cities to simple little church services with a sermon on peace in the hamlets and villages.

In Washington President Calvin Coolidge placed a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier, gold star mothers and other mourners filed past the sepulchre all day. A mile or so away 5,000 people jammed the street in front of Woodrow Wilson's home and heard him—choking with emotion which at times almost overcame him—call the American army of 1918 "the most ideal army that was ever thrown together."

He defied those who opposed the American entrance in the League of Nations and said "that we shall prevail is as sure as that God reigns."

In London King George placed a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier in Westminster Abbey while thousands filed past in Whitehall.

In Paris General Pershing stood at attention while his aide put a wreath on the unknown soldier's tomb beneath the Arc De Triomphe while a vast crowd of Frenchmen looked on. And in Germany the former crown prince returning from exile, conferred with Von Hindenburg and sped from town to town in his automobile en route to his castle at Silesia.

INDUSTRIAL SURVEY IS COMBINED WITH BIG HOLIDAY ISSUE

WILL COVER ENTIRE CITY AND COUNTY ON DEC. 15 WITH VALUABLE MATERIAL

CHRISTMAS ADVERTISERS GIVEN WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY TO SELL GOODS THRU NUMBER

The Daily Dispatch on Dec. 15 will issue a big Christmas and Booster Number, which will be an industrial survey of Brainerd and Crow Wing county, in addition to an attractive holiday number, containing Christmas stories and pictures, and taking on a festive appearance throughout.

That no family in Brainerd or Crow Wing county may miss reading this big issue, the Daily Dispatch is going to cover the entire city and county, making a free distribution, where the Dispatch's large subscription list does not already take it.

It will be a number that cannot be read through in one evening, and those receiving it in their homes will preserve it, to be perused frequently during the holiday season, as well as other times.

The industry, business and agriculture of this section will be carefully covered, providing valuable pictures and reading material for many a day.

Advertisers will find this number an exceptional medium for giving publicity to their business. It has been scheduled to appear at the time when Christmas advertising is at its height, thus affording an opportunity for giving publicity to holiday goods to the entire county in an issue that will attract widespread attention. Other business and professional men, although they may not have special Christmas trade, will find this number unexcelled for extending greetings of the season to their customers and patrons, and at the same time help to boost Brainerd.

The Daily Dispatch has increased its staff to take care of the large amount of work that will be required in getting out this number. A representative of this paper will call personally on every business and professional man in the city within the next few days, giving them an opportunity to get in on the biggest thing of its kind that has ever been put on in Crow Wing county.

'Business Rotten,' So He Got Vote, Says Johnson

Minneapolis, Nov. 12.—Senator Magnus Johnson said last night that 75 per cent of the traveling salesmen of the state voted for him last summer because "business was rotten." The statement was made before St. Paul Men Teachers' federation at the Ryman hotel. Senator Johnson also declared that Minnesota is now law ridden and that the state would be better off for throwing 50 per cent of the laws of the state into the river.

Although Rev. Howard Y. Williams, pastor of the People's church, St. Paul, had a moment before lauded the election of both Henrik Shipstead and Mr. Johnson as United States senators, Senator Johnson said he disagreed with Mr. Williams in advocating the entrance of the United States into either the world court or League of Nations.

REV. ERRINGTON TO NEW PASTORATE

Popular Pastor Accepts Call to Congregational Church of Moorhead

FIRST SERMON THERE DEC. 2

During Residence in Brainerd Endured Himself to Congregation and Many Friends

Rev. Frederick Errington, pastor of the First Congregational church for nearly five years, has resigned his charge here, and has accepted a call to the Congregational church at Moorhead, Minn., at a very substantial increase in salary. He will preach his first sermon in the new pastorate on December 2nd.

This news comes as a shock to both the members of his congregation and to his many other friends in the city. During his residence in the city he has endeared himself not only to those of his own congregation, but all with whom he has come in contact. It is with deep regret that these friends will learn of his decision to leave Brainerd.

Rev. Errington has been an outstanding figure in his church circles, and has worked untiringly for the welfare and building up of his parish. He has been very active in church work throughout the state as well, being a member of the board of directors of the Congregational Conference of Minnesota for the past three years and register of the Duluth Association of Congregational churches for a like period.

Not only in his church has Rev. Errington labored. He has taken a very active interest in all community affairs, and his efforts have been exerted in all civic movements which tend to develop Brainerd. For two years he was a member of the advisory board of the Chamber of Commerce, and for three years a member of the public library board.

Rev. Errington came to Brainerd in March, 1919, after being discharged from the army as chaplain of the overseas detachment, at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana. He is a charter member of Sidney Carl Hanson Post of the American Legion, and chaplain since its organization.

In 1920 he was made county chairman of the "Hoover" European Relief drive in which $2,700 was raised in Crow Wing county. He is a charter member of the Brainerd Lions club and has done much to further the work of this organization.

He has never shirked what has seemed to him to be his civic duties, and has an excellent record for service on both the grand and petit juries, as well as deputy clerk of the courts through one term of the local district court.

Not only as a public speaker has Rev. Errington won much praise, but also as a writer. He has for the past eighteen months been in charge of the editorial page of the Dispatch, and for four months assisted on this paper's news staff.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Errington will be sadly missed in the First Congregational church, where they have given their untiring efforts to the work of their choice. During their term of leadership here, the church has been remodeled at a cost of about $20,000 and a pipe organ installed last year. They enjoyed a three-months leave of absence in 1921, with full salary, to visit their old home in England.

While the loss of Rev. Errington will be keenly felt in the local church and in all civic organizations in which he was interested, it is felt that the Moorhead call is in the nature of an advancement, and will increase his opportunities for service. His many friends in Brainerd

OUIJA BOARD DETECTS THIEF

College Student Steals $2,000 and Shifts Blame in Affair

SHERIFF COMES TO RESCUE

Lem Underduck, Sheriff of Flynnville, Proves His Worth

After stealing $2,000 from a grocer's safe and shifting the blame on to the clerk in the store, a young college student was detected by the shrewdness of the postmistress after the sheriff had fallen down on the job. A ouija board was used to place the blame where it belonged, and on being pinned down the culprit confessed, while the sheriff and the postmistress settled their case in cupid's court.

Such is the plot in "Kathleen," the musical comedy which will be staged at the New Park theatre Monday and Tuesday, November 19 and 20 under Brainerd Lodge of Elks No. 615 auspices. Part of the proceeds are to be used for charitable purposes by the Elks throughout the extensive jurisdiction of the lodge.

Under the direction of Clyde E. Parker, chairman of the hose, social and community welfare committee, the city has been divided into districts with lieutenants in charge.

At Crosby, Ironton, Deerwood, Cuyuna, Trommald and other points on the iron range, the ticket selling campaign is in the hands of J. P. Anderson of the Hillcrest mine who has appointed his corps of assistants.

The first night of the show is to be "Brainerd Night," and the second "Range Night." Indications now point to a packed house at both performances, and those who have followed the rehearsals declare that the performances will merit such support, for it is by far the best comedy that has ever been brought to Brainerd.

While the above is the plot of the show, the development of that plot brings out one continued burst of laughs, tempered now and then by the pathos of the more dramatic portions of the play between Jimmy Stanton, the grocery clerk, and his sweetheart, Kathleen O'Day.

Lem Underduck, sheriff of Flynnville and graduate from a correspondence school of private detectives has two chances to prove his worth in his "perfeshun," and falls down on both, but Arabella Wilkins, village postmistress and gossip, who is in love with the sheriff, comes to the rescue in the final scene and brings about justice. The hick comedy scenes, songs and dances between the sheriff, Arabella and Teckley Brangle, crony and baiter of the sheriff, are guaranteed to solve the question of tight vests by bursting off the buttons, while the work of Mr. Crook or "Swindler is the name," the village grocer, will set the house to shouting.

Nor is comedy all, for the ten choruses and 14 musical numbers on the program add harmony, dancing and pep to what is considered one of the best balanced musical comedies ever written. The songs are extremely catchy, and will outlive the memory of those who took part in the best little show ever witnessed in Brainerd.

wish him every success in his new field.

No thought has been given by the local church as to who will be secured as Rev. Errington's successor here. It is his intention to fill the pulpit in Brainerd for the next two Sundays.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1923

ONE STEP AT A TIME

THE women of the Minnesota League of Women Voters, so far as they can be judged en masse by the attitudes of those who speak for them, are taking the sensible position that while the best ideals may not be immediately attainable, by taking one step at a time they may approach such ideals even though the approach may be made slowly.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt in addressing the annual convention of this organization of women expressed her belief that this nation's duty requires participation in an economic conference to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations, a reduction of the amounts that the United States is entitled to collect from the allied nations, a demonstration of America's interest in bringing peace to Europe, and association with other nations in considering in conference the problems that lie before the nations and which must be faced before the world sees "the resumption of trade and commerce by which alone the people of the world can be fed."

This is a practical program—a program that calls for America's entry into Europe in a very forceful manner. It is at the extreme from the policy of the isolationists but it is unlikely that at this time sentiment has moved to the point where it can be carried into effect. In fact there is no assurance that President Harding's World court proposal has sufficient backing to carry it through the senate.

But while this internationally known leader expressed such a stand she also affirmed her belief in the World court, in the League of Nations and in outlawing war, and these three proposals constitute a program that will require a great deal of publicity and arduous effort before the American people get behind it with such evident enthusiasm that the senate will be impressed by the enthusiasm of their constituents.

First the court, then the league, and after that the outlawry of war, such is the proposal of Mrs. Catt, and together with these a participation in conferences which must deal with economics looking to the restoration of trade and commerce. There are many who will not go this length, many in the League of Women Voters who will draw back, and there are many who will feel that because the process is slow and does not attempt a leap to the desired end it is useless to expend effort upon such unprofitable steps.

One of the dangers of idealism lies in the fact that idealists often see remarkable ends but refuse to take one step at a time. Because the end cannot be reached immediately they refuse to march slowly towards the ideal. They demand the whole loaf and unless they can grasp it they refuse to take any at all. But it is not in this way that the world has advanced. There has been an evolution from lower social forms to higher social values, an advance from the tribe to the state and from the state to the nation and from the nation to a growing sense of the inter-relationship of nations. It took a long time to make this advance and if history teaches anything it is fair to conclude that it will take some considerable time to reach the goal of those who envisage a warless world.

In individual, social, industrial and economic life they succeed who keep plodding. Those who take one step at a time, and after having taken the one step are ready to keep going, step by step, until they reach the high ends which they seek, are successful in the affairs of life. And it is because many people want something, or at least think and say that they do, but are unwilling to go after it slowly and laboriously, that they fail to get what they say they want. Neither heaven nor peace will be reached by a single bound. Men must mount the ladder by which they climb, taking one step at a time. In this way peace is possible—in this way and in no other. It won't come simply by asking for it but it may be realized by working for it and by moving towards it step by step.

APFELBECK PLAYS

Distinguished Pianiste Appeared Under Auspices of the Brainerd Musical Club

AT ELKS HALL SATURDAY

Gave Compositions of Bach, Chopin, Mendelssohn, Schubert, Brahms, Leschetizky

Madame Bailey-Apfelbeck, distinguished pianiste, appeared Saturday afternoon at Elks hall under Brainerd Musical club auspices and rendered in most effective and pleasing manner this program:

1. Bach.....Chromatic Fantasia
2. Chopin.....Scherzo B flat minor

Nocturne F sharp major

Ballade G. minor

3. Mendelssohn.....Caprice "Sommernacht's Traum,"

Elfs Dance."

Schubert.....Menuette,

Brahms.....Hungarian Dance

Ravin.....Etude de Style

Leschetizky.....Les deux Alouettes

4. Schumann Liszt.....Love Song

Schumann Liszt.....Erlking

Last Saturday the Brainerd Musical club held its first regular monthly meeting program, when the committee was so fortunate as to procure

Madame Bailey Apfelbeck as the artist.

Those who were fortunate enough to be present showed their thorough appreciation of an artist of such fine international reputation.

It is needless to say that a woman who has appeared before many crowned heads and is decorated with exceptionally valuable medals held her audience throughout the program, intensely interested in her music and her interpretation of it.

She played a varied program, but whether she was interpreting a light and airy fairy dance, or the sad minor strains of a ballad, her thorough technic and the feeling with which she portrayed the emotions of the composer inspired her audience to much appreciative applause. She schoke of various selections and the need of fine fingering and pedalling to bring out the thoughts of the composer, but to her audience it was evident that here was a master of fingering and pedalling. She had so thorough a knowledge of her art that she brought out to the full all the tones of the piano, and made her audience see the dancing of the elves

in the "Midsummer Night's Dream," and the desperate ride of the father

in "Erlking."

She seems to have in an exceptional degree the ability to portray all moods and to shift from dainty touches to wild thundering notes, from the Hungarian dance to the varying feelings experienced in Bach's Chromatic Fantasia.

It was a most interesting afternoon,

and the members of the club

hope that the coming programs may prove as fine and as interesting.

ARMISTICE DAY

OBSERVED SUNDAY

Excellent Program Given Under the Auspices of the American Legion

AT THE NEW PARK THEATRE

School Exercises Held Monday Morning American Legion Takes Part

Armistice Day was fittingly observed Sunday, with an excellent program under the auspices of the American Legion at the New Park theatre.

Members of the Legion gathered at Elks hall and marched in a body to the theatre where the patriotic exercises were held, beginning at 12:10 p. m.

The program opened with the invocation by Post Chaplain, Rev. Fred Errington. The audience, lead by the American Legion quartet sang America. The quartet consisted of Roland Jenkins, A. C. Mraz, S. P. Alderman and John M. Bye. Mrs. Walter F. Wieland presided at the piano.

Post Commander Arthur Lydda was in charge of the Legion's ritualistic service, which was presented in a most impressive manner.

Vocal solos were rendered by Dr. G. I. Badenau and A. C. Mraz.

The address of the day was delivered by Rev. Fred Errington, who spoke on the memories of Armistice Day as a time of letting go and celebrating in a big way the event which the day symbolizes. "For God and Country," as used in the preamble of the Legion's constitution we ought to remember the other children of God in foreign countries, and should share the prosperity of this country of ours with others getting back to the idealism that inspired men before the armistice was signed," said the speaker.

The exercises closed with the audience singing the Star Spangled Banner, lead by the quartet and the benediction pronounced by Rev. Father Walter Remmis, of St. Francis Catholic church.

The Park theatre was especially decorated for the occasion, American flags especially being in evidence. A good audience was in attendance but not the number that the Legion had hoped for.

On Monday morning, Commander Lydda in company with Superintendent W. C. Cobb held 45 minute Armistice programs in the various school buildings of the city. Chaplain Errington was to have been included in these exercises, but on account of a slight illness was unable to be present.

In the afternoon, a half holiday was declared in the high school and all of the students participated in a giant parade with Commander Lydda at the head. Five hundred students were in line and paraded the principal streets in the downtown district. A more extended parade would have been staged had the rain not put a damper on the festivities.

Flags on the court house and city hall today proclaimed the observance of the holiday. There was no session of the district court and the ofices in the court house observed the day.

ONE STEP AT A TIME

THE women of the Minnesota League of Women Voters, so far as they can be judged en masse by the attitudes of those who speak for them, are taking the sensible position that while the best ideals may not be immediately attainable, by taking one step at a time they may approach such ideals even though the approach may be made slowly.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt in addressing the annual convention of this organization of women expressed her belief that this nation's duty requires participation in an economic conference to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations, a reduction of the amounts that the United States is entitled to collect from the allied nations, a demonstration of America's interest in bringing peace to Europe, and association with other nations in considering in conference the problems that lie before the nations and which must be faced before the world sees "the resumption of trade and commerce by which alone the people of the world can be fed."

This is a practical program—a program that calls for America's entry into Europe in a very forceful manner. It is at the extreme from the policy of the isolationists but it is unlikely that at this time sentiment has moved to the point where it can be carried into effect. In fact there is no assurance that President Harding's World court proposal has sufficient backing to carry it through the senate.

But while this internationally known leader expressed such a stand she also affirmed her belief in the World court, in the League of Nations and in outlawing war, and these three proposals constitute a program that will require a great deal of publicity and arduous effort before the American people get behind it with such evident enthusiasm that the senate will be impressed by the enthusiasm of their constituents.

First the court, then the league, and after that the outlawry of war, such is the proposal of Mrs. Catt, and together with these a participation in conferences which must deal with economics looking to the restoration of trade and commerce. There are many who will not go this length, many in the League of Women Voters who will draw back, and there are many who will feel that because the process is slow and does not attempt a leap to the desired end it is useless to expend effort upon such unprofitable steps.

One of the dangers of idealism lies in the fact that idealists often see remarkable ends but refuse to take one step at a time. Because the end cannot be reached immediately they refuse to march slowly towards the ideal. They demand the whole loaf and unless they can grasp it they refuse to take any at all. But it is not in this way that the world has advanced. There has been an evolution from lower social forms to higher social values, an advance from the tribe to the state and from the state to the nation and from the nation to a growing sense of the inter-relationship of nations. It took a long time to make this advance and if history teaches anything it is fair to conclude that it will take some considerable time to reach the goal of those who envisage a warless world.

In individual, social, industrial and economic life they succeed who keep plodding. Those who take one step at a time, and after having taken the one step are ready to keep going, step by step, until they reach the high ends which they seek, are successful in the affairs of life. And it is because many people want something, or at least think and say that they do, but are unwilling to go after it slowly and laboriously, that they fail to get what they say they want. Neither heaven nor peace will be reached by a single bound. Men must mount the ladder by which they climb, taking one step at a time. In this way peace is possible—in this way and in no other. It won't come simply by asking for it but it may be realized by working for it and by moving towards it step by step.

APFELBECK PLAYS

Distinguished Pianiste Appeared
Under Auspices of the Brainerd Musical Club

AT ELKS HALL SATURDAY

Gave Compositions of Bach, Chopin, Mendelssohn, Schubert, Brahms, Liszt, Schumann, etc.

Madame Bailey-Apfelbeck, distinguished pianiste, appeared Saturday afternoon at Elks hall under Brainerd Musical club auspices and rendered in most effective and pleasing manner this program:

1. Bach.....Chromatic Fantasia
2. Chopin.....Scherzo B flat minor
3. Mendelssohn.....Nocturne F sharp major
4. Schubert.....Ballade G minor
5. Brahms.....Hungarian Dance
6. Liszt.....Etude de Style
7. Schumann.....Les deux Alouettes
8. Schumann.....Love Song
9. Schumann.....Erlking

Last Saturday the Brainerd Musical club held its first regular monthly meeting program, when the committee was so fortunate as to procure Madame Bailey-Apfelbeck as the artist. Those who were fortunate enough to be present showed their thorough appreciation of an artist of such fine international reputation. It is needless to say that a woman who has appeared before many crowned heads and is decorated with exceptionally valuable medals held her audience throughout the program, intensely interested in her music and her interpretation of it.

She played a varied program, but whether she was interpreting a light and airy fairy dance, or the sad minor strains of a ballad, her thorough technique and the feeling with which she portrayed the emotions of the composer inspired her audience to much appreciative applause. She spoke of various selections and the need of fine fingering and pedalling to bring out the thoughts of the composer, but to her audience it was evident that here was a master of fingering and pedalling. She had so thorough a knowledge of her art that she brought out to the full all the tones of the piano, and made her audience see the dancing of the elves in the "Midsummer Night's Dream," and the desperate ride of the father in "Erlking."

She seems to have in an exceptional degree the ability to portray all moods and to shift from dainty touches to wild thundering notes, from the Hungarian dance to the varying feelings experienced in Bach's Chromatic Fantasia.

It was a most interesting afternoon, and the members of the club hope that the coming programs may prove as fine and as interesting.

RAN TOO FAST AROUND CURVE
One Wheel Came Off, Car Dropped
Into Ditch, Rolling Over
1½ Times

A Ford car carrying six young people turned turtle a mile west of Dykeman about 10:30 Saturday evening, and one of the occupants was injured.

The car was owned and driven by Fred Sutton, it is said. The others with him were Ole Greger, Wm. Brick, and the Misses Hazel Sutton, Pansy Egelson and Bertilla Carlson.

The Ford was traveling too rapidly to negotiate a curve, and one of the wheels came off, throwing the car into the ditch, where it turned over one and a half times. Miss Bertilla Carlson, aged 16 years, and residing at 1506 Laurel street, was the only one hurt. She suffered a minor injury to her right eye and right ear, it being necessary to take six stitches in the ear, so badly was it torn. She was brought to Brainerd and is at Northwestern hospital where it is said she is getting along nicely.

At St. Joseph hospital Dr. J. A. Thubas dressed the wound, finding it necessary to take out a number of small bones. Waterhouse is reported as getting along nicely today.

UNITED STATES MAY NOT WIN OLYMPICS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 12.—America, it is generally known, is in real danger of finishing second in the Olympic games at Paris next summer.

Those who have followed the development of athletics in Sweden and Norway since the 1920 games in Antwerp know that these two nations will make a most powerful bid for the championship.

It is fortunate that the American officials are aware of the existing conditions and are willing to admit that Uncle Sam has a job on his hands.

With all its overwhelming natural advantages it is hard to reason how any small nations could take the Olympic championship away from the United States. But it is possible.

Any number of bad breaks can happen to reduce the strength of the American team. Injuries to Matt McGrath, Joie Ray and Sol Butler cut down the points in Antwerp, and if three great stars are hurt before or during the Paris games it will be much more serious.

Because of a lack of cooperation and a faulty system in organizing and conducting the trial events in 1920, the American team was not as strong as it could have been.

It will have to be 100 per cent strong this year, and it probably will be, as the various controlling bodies are working in complete harmony and they have assembled a good organization to select and train the team.

Petty politics and little jealousies destroyed harmonious relations between the various organizations in 1920. The A. A. U. regarded as rather presumptuous and assuming the efforts of the inter-collegiate association to have a voice in selection of the team and a part in its management.

Rather admirably this year, the A. A. U. is stepping aside and instead of insisting upon being the one big boss has agreed to be one of the bosses under a general committee.

Say what you will, officers of the army and navy are good executives. They are trained to handle big problems such as are presented by the mobilization selection, transportation and maintenance of an army of 400 athletes, which is no small sized job.

Commander Mayo, who had charge of the Navy athletes on the 1920 team, stepped out of a rear rank when things were going badly in Antwerp and he suggested, if he did not actually carry out, the changes which stopped the threatened revolt of the American team.

In Major General Henry T. Allen, the American committee this year has a most competent adviser and executive and the committee can consider itself fortunate to have at its command such valuable assistance.

If any baseball man can develop and bring out the potential possibilities of the Chicago White Sox in the 1924 pennant race, Frank Chance ought to be that man.

Chance knows baseball and he is of the aggressive type that can get the best out of material.

The "Peerless Leader" did nothing sensational with the Boston Red Sox, but no one could do better with the material offered him in Boston in one year.

Kid Gleason was no bust with the Sox. Injuries and bad breaks caused the club to be a disappointment in the 1923 campaign and it must be considered that the club had no right to be considered as a real contender.

CORNHUSKERS WIN

FROM NOTRE DAME

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 12.—In the biggest surprise of the football season, Nebraska, a team which had been defeated by Illinois earlier in the season and held to tie scores by Missouri and Kansas, defeated Notre Dame Saturday on Stadium field, 14 to 7.

Was Decisive Defeat

The defeat of Coach Rockne's eleven, which had won from the Army, Princeton and Georgia Tech in important conference battles, was decisive. The Cornhuskers outplayed Notre Dame in practically every department of the game with the possible exception of forward passing. They tore through the visitors' line, shot off the tackles and got around the ends. In addition they completed a dandy forward pass for their second touchdown and Captain Lliwellyn had the better of Layden in the punting game. Defensively, the Cornhuskers stopped most of Notre Dame's straight plays before they made much headway. The big Crimson colored jersey players were on their toes and smashed the Notre Dame interference before it was formed.

Notre Dame Lacks Drive

It simply was a case of one team being alert and on its toes while the other did not show any of the dash or drive which featured its play in the Army and Princeton games.

On defense Nebraska played its tackles wide and they aided the ends considerably in stopping the attempted end plays of Miller and Crowley, the Notre Dame halfbacks. The guards also played wide and appeared to know the delayed line plunging of Layden and the other halfbacks. When Notre Dame opened up its forward passing attack, the passer was rushed considerably and Nebraska generally managed to cover the eligible players in convincing manner.

Gardner Hall Taxed to Its Utmost
Seating Capacity Sunday Evening

Gardner hall was taxed to its utmost seating capacity to accommodate the crowds who came last evening to hear Evangelist Anderson deliver his lecture, "Millions Now Living Struck Dead. The Devil's Vacation of 1900 Years."

Mr. Anderson, in a graphic manner portrayed from Holy Writ the events clustering around the period of 1600 years, the Millennium, during which Satan is to be bound and condemned to solitary confinement on this old earth. Jeremiah 4th chapter describes the desolation in these words, "I beheld the earth and, lo, it was without form and void, and the heavens, and they had no light. I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled and all the hills moved lightly—there was no man, all the birds of the heaven were fled—the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the Lord and by His fierce anger, "an urgent and touching appeal was made that all should prepare now to meet God, lest at the coming of Christ any should be found in rebellion against heaven, and perish in the fires of this last day.

A special feature of the evening was a missionary song rendered by the ladies' chorus, illustrated by forty beautiful colored slides.

Tonight's lecture promises to be no less interesting and striking, "The Carnival of Crime, Capital and Labor." This subject will be presented in the light of present day conditions and current history.

LUTEFISK SUPPER

Two Chefs in Charge of Same at Norwegian-Danish Lutheran Church
November 16th

There will be two chefs in charge of the lutfisk supper served Friday evening, November 16, at the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church. S. A. Saxrud will prepare the fish under the Norwegian plan, and Al Beaver will have charge of the preparation under the Swedish recipe. This has been done so that the particular palates of all may be satisfied.

The Norwegian mode provides for melted butter gravy and the Swedish a cream sauce.

In addition to lutfisk there will be meat balls, steamed potatoes, lefsa which is made of potatoes and milk and rolled out to a thin sheet and baked, coffee, cream, pickles, cake, etc.

So pleasing is the supper that many people who never had lutfisk in their homes, have been converted to the habit, and now regularly lunch at the church and enjoy this fish supper.

It takes a lot of butter for the butter sauce, 50 to 60 pounds. Fish cooked will run up to 600 pounds. It will take four or more bushels of potatoes, innumerable buns, etc.

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 12.—America, it is generally known, is in real danger of finishing second in the Olympic games at Paris next summer.

Those who have followed the development of athletics in Sweden and Norway since the 1920 games in Antwerp know that these two nations will make a most powerful bid for the championship.

It is fortunate that the American officials are aware of the existing conditions and are willing to admit that Uncle Sam has a job on his hands.

With all its overwhelming natural advantages it is hard to reason how any small nations could take the Olympic championship away from the United States. But it is possible.

Any number of bad breaks can happen to reduce the strength of the American team. Injuries to Matt McGrath, Joe Ray and Sol Butler cut down the points in Antwerp, and if three great stars are hurt before or during the Paris games it will be much more serious.

Because of a lack of cooperation and a faulty system in organizing and conducting the trial events in 1920, the American team was not as strong as it could have been.

It will have to be 100 per cent strong this year, and it probably will be, as the various controlling bodies are working in complete harmony and they have assembled a good organization to select and train the team.

Petty politics and little jealousies destroyed harmonious relations between the various organizations in 1920. The A. A. U. regarded as rather presumptuous and assuming the efforts of the inter-collegiate association to have a voice in selection of the team and a part in its management.

Rather admirably this year, the A. A. U. is stepping aside and instead of insisting upon being the one big boss has agreed to be one of the bosses under a general committee.

Say what you will, officers of the army and navy are good executives. They are trained to handle big problems such as are presented by the mobilization selection, transportation and maintenance of an army of 400 athletes, which is no small sized job.

Commander Mayo, who had charge of the Navy athletes on the 1920 team, stepped out of a rear rank when things were going badly in Antwerp and he suggested, if he did not actually carry out, the changes which stopped the threatened revolt of the American team.

In Major General Henry T. Allen, the American committee this year has a most competent adviser and executive and the committee can consider itself fortunate to have at its command such valuable assistance.

If any baseball man can develop and bring out the potential possibilities of the Chicago White Sox in the 1924 pennant race, Frank Chance ought to be that man.

Chance knows baseball and he is of the aggressive type that can get the best out of material.

The "Peerless Leader" did nothing sensational with the Boston Red Sox, but no one could do better with the material offered him in Boston in one year.

Kid Gleason was no bust with the Sox. Injuries and bad breaks caused the club to be a disappointment in the 1923 campaign and it must be considered that the club had no right to be considered as a real contender.

FOOTBALL RESULTS

The Syracuse goal line remains uncrossed. The Orange defeated Boston university, 49 to 0.

Harvard earned its victory over Princeton by the score of 5 to 0.

Kemper Academy defeated Shattuck Military Academy team, 15 to 0.

After toying with the Lake Forest team in the first quarter, Northwestern cut loose and won, 32 to 0.

Harold "Red" Grange tore loose at Urbana and increased his fame and glory. He went down the field in a series of end runs to the only touchdown of the day and with what Earl Britton's toe collected a few moments later, Illinois was able to humble its ancient foe from Wisconsin by a 19 to 0 score.

In the most spectacular game of football played on Perry field, Ann Arbor, Mich., in several years, Michigan defeated the United States Marines, 26 to 6, before 45,000 spectators who exhausted all standing room.

A 50-yard run through a broken field spoiled Hamline's dream of another state title at Northfield. It took away from the Red and Gray a point margin which they had fought stubbornly to hold for three long quarters, and won for Carleton, 13 to 7, in one of the hardest fought games ever played between the two old rivals.

Kansas defeated Washington, 83 to 0.

St. Thomas' aerial attack bewildered the North Dakota Aggies. Score, 26 to 0.

Hibbing high school won the district championship by defeating Denfield High of Duluth, 13 to 10.

Cornell swamped Columbia, 35 to 0.

Grinnell bowed in defeat before the Kansas Aggies, 34 to 7.

Dartmouth defeated Brown, 16 to 14.

Two wonderful drop kicks by Pence assisted Coe to win over Drake University, 12 to 6.

Chicago's aerial attack defeated the Hoosiers, 27 to 0.

Purdue was smothered, 32 to 0, by the aerial attack of Ohio State.

St. John's defeated Gustavus Adolphus, 14 to 12, checking a terrific comeback staged by the Gustavus team.

Maryland lost to Yale by the scant margin of 16 to 14.

LUTEFISK SUPPER

Two Chefs in Charge of Same at Norwegian-Danish Lutheran Church November 16th

There will be two chefs in charge of the lutfisk supper served Friday evening, November 16, at the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church. S. A. Saxrud will prepare the fish under the Norwegian plan, and Al Beaver will have charge of the preparation under the Swedish recipe. This has been done so that the particular palates of all may be satisfied.

The Norwegian mode provides for melted butter gravy and the Swedish a cream sauce.

In addition to lutfisk there will be meat balls, steamed potatoes, lefsa which is made of potatoes and milk and rolled out to a thin sheet and baked, coffee, cream, pickles, cake, etc.

So pleasing is the supper that many people who never had lutfisk in their homes, have been converted to the habit, and now regularly lunch

at the church and enjoy this fish supper.

It takes a lot of butter for the butter sauce, 50 to 60 pounds. Fish cooked will run up to 600 pounds. It will take four or more bushels of potatoes, innumerable buns, etc.

Four-Cylinder, Five-Passenger Sedan
The Standard of Comparison

A Fine Sedan Anyone Can Own

How capably Buick provides the maximum of closed car comfort, power and utility is well expressed in this new 1924 four-cylinder, five-passenger Sedan. Everything that could be asked for is here. There is the well-proportioned, attractive body, Fisher-built. There is the famous Buick valve-in-head engine. There are the proved Buick four-wheel brakes.

Yet with all of its splendid qualities and mechanical superiorities, the price of this sedan is modest—with in the means of the majority of motor car buyers.
